

New this Year: Makerspaces at Camp!

A makerspace is a spot for children to explore, build and play. Using project-based instruction, campers will be challenged to make products that meet certain guidelines set by the counselors.

The goal of project-based “making” is to build campers’ skill sets so that they can eventually use those skills in their own, self-directed creations.

We will have a makerspace at our indoor classroom as well as outside!

Could you make a working BLIMP with these items? How far will it travel? How fast will it go? Can you make it change direction?
